

Help Improve Online Learning for Health Workers

Are you a healthcare worker in a low- to middle income country?

What is this research project about?

We're working to help get high-quality healthcare into the hands of doctors and nurses in low- and middle-income countries.

Some people think online learning might work, but we need your help to understand when it might work and when it might fail.

What is involved?

- A single 90-minute session on Zoom where you will:
  - Preview two short online learning modules
  - Share your opinion on online learning
  - You'll receive $50 AUD (approx 32 USD) as a thank you for your time.

Are you eligible?

- You work or have (last 5 years) worked in healthcare
- You have access to the internet
- You have access WhatsApp and Zoom
- You have 90 minutes available

Ready to take part?

Scan the QR code or Click Here for details and to sign up

If you would like more information, you can email Shantell Griffith (PhD Candidate): s.griffith@uq.edu.au

This study has been approved by The University of Queensland Human Research Ethics Committee (Ethics Number HE000147).

THE UNIVERSITY
OF QUEENSLAND
AUSTRALIA

CREATE CHANGE